FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: October 2010

William B. Meyer, Inc. welcomes over 120 from local businesses to celebrate grand opening of Windsor facility.

Windsor, CT (October 12, 2010) – William B. Meyer welcomed over 120 guests from the local manufacturing, legal, medical and transportation fields last Thursday night to celebrate the Grand Opening of the company's new state-of-the-art facility in Windsor, CT.

Guests were treated to a catered event featuring a top of the line menu in combination with live jazz music and signature Blue Meyer Martinis. Guided facility tours were provided throughout, and the evening concluded with an iPad grand prize drawing. Attendees mingled in the new warehouse turned party-space, and favorably commented on the sheer size and capabilities of the new complex.

The 128,500 square foot facility, located at 175 Great Pond Road in Windsor, is home to newly consolidated and expanded business operations including residential and office moving, rigging, records management and off-site data protection, IT asset management, library relocation services and book depository, storage and logistics. Facility tour highlights included the temperature and humidity-controlled book depository, and a two-story Firelock® Datavault with vapor-lock barrier, magnetic shielding, and 24-hour video surveillance. The new building brings the company's total storage and warehousing space located strategically throughout the northeast to over 1 million square feet.

With the construction of this new building, the 95 year-old, Stratford-based company, more than doubled its space in the Hartford area. President of the fourth-generation, family-owned company, Tom Gillon, welcomed guests and described how just a few months ago, he stood out in the exact same area, thigh-high in a squash and zucchini field. "We're proud to be here," he said, "and know that our economic contribution to this area is unique during a recession. We've come a long way from our first truck delivery 95 years ago."
